Key risks: Past performance is not a guide to future performance. Investment in the GF Absolute Return Bond Fund involves foreign currencies and may be subject to fluctuations in value due to movements in exchange rates. To the extent that such hedging is successful, the performance of the hedged Classes is unlikely to move in line with the performance of the underlying assets and that investors in a hedged Class will not benefit if the Fund's investments' currency rises against the base currency. The value of fixed income securities will fall if the issuer is unable to repay its debt or has its credit rating reduced. Generally, the higher the perceived credit risk of the issuer, the higher the rate of interest. Bond markets may be subject to reduced liquidity. The Fund may invest in emerging markets/soft currencies and in financial derivative instruments, both of which may have the effect of increasing volatility. Discrete performance data is not available for five full 12 month periods due to the launch date of the portfolio.

^^The amount of income generated for distribution after deducting all expenses. *Duration is a measure of the sensitivity of the price of a fixed-income investment to a change in interest rates in years.

Aim to generate an absolute return whilst also aiming to minimise the Fund's volatility and reducing the possibility of a significant drawdown (i.e. a period where the fund is worth less than the initial investment at the start of a 12 month period).
